Detroit, MI – "The Third Circuit Court Annual Report Cover Design Contest winners all demonstrated imagination and skill worthy of professionals. On behalf of our Court, I thank them for their extraordinary designs and hard work," says Chief Judge Timothy M. Kenny.

The Third Circuit Court is pleased to announce its 2021 Annual Report Cover Contest winners. This contest is open to high school students who reside in or attend Wayne County schools.

The 1st place winner is Adrianna Robinson. Adrianna is 17-years-old. She is currently in her 2nd year of William D. Ford Tech Center. She is going to Grand Valley State University for a BA in Supply Chain Management. She received a full scholarship at GV and she's attending in the fall. Later in the future she plans to move out of Michigan. She would travel a little but wants to settle down in a different state. She likes digital art but more of something to do on the side. Art has been more of a hobby than a career choice for her.

The 2nd place winner is Alyssa Bell. Alyssa is currently a 2nd year Digital Art student at William D. Ford Technical Center in Westland where she recently earned her State Approved Design certificate. Her goal is to create beautiful designs that she's proud of. She always wants to improve her skills. In her spare time she enjoys watching documentaries because of how informational they are. After high school she is taking a year off to figure out her future. She hopes that one day she will be able to travel wherever she wants in the world.

The 3rd place winner is Ivonte' Dior Williams. Ivonte' is currently a senior in high school. In his free time he likes to play video games, watch TV, play basketball, draw, and make milkshakes. He has 3 siblings, 2 brothers and a sister. He currently is employed at Firehouse Subs and he has a dream of going to college for Psychology.
